

Junge Slavistik im Dialog

16th INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON SLAVIC STUDIES

April 23rd – 24th, 2021

Institute of Slavic Studies
Kiel University

The conference will be held online.

It is a good opportunity for students and doctoral candidates to present their research.

The main topics of the conference focus on Russian, Polish, and Czech in the fields of linguistics, and literary and cultural studies. Representatives of other Slavic languages and other academic disciplines (history, political or social sciences) are also welcome.

The conference language is German, but there is an opportunity to present a paper in one of the following languages: English, Polish, Russian, or Czech.

The participants of the conference should present a paper (no longer than 20 minutes).
The best papers will be published in a conference anthology, which is planned for 2022.

There are no conference fees.
